President Busy On Radio Speech Aboard Yacht

Boards the Williamsburg After Signing 64 Bills; Will Deliver Talk Next Thursday

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Truman secluded himself and a small staff of aides aboard the yacht Williamsburg today to write a straight-to-the-people speech he will broadcast next Thursday. Secretary of State Byrnes planned to join him late today to report on the Big Three foreign ministers conference at Moscow. The President started his four day trip down the Potomac river to Chesapeake Bay after a cramped two hours of desk work at the White House in which he signed 64 bills and resolutions. He accompanied his approval of a bill extending the Second War Powers Act six months with the assurance that there must be a further extension. It is from this act that the chief executive derives his rationing and priorities powers.

"We know that our economy will be plagued with major war shortages six months from now, and that the government must have the means of dealing with these shortages," Mr. Truman's statement said. "There must, therefore, be further legislation to cover the period after June 30, 1946."

Among other measures the President signed soon after he arrived by plane yesterday from his Christmas visit home in Missouri were those:

Liberalizing the loan and educational benefits in the G.I. Bill of Rights.
Appropriating $2,400,000,000 in deficiency funds for various government agencies, including $750,000,000 for U.N.R.R.A., $191,000,000 for veterans housing, $125,000,000 for navigation and flood control projects, and $1,000,000,000 for the national service life insurance fund.

Relaxing immigration laws to admit foreign born wives, husbands or children of members of the armed forces.

Authorizing an investigation of means of increasing the capacity and security of the Panama Canal.

During the cruise on which he embarked last night Mr. Truman will work with aides on both the half-hour radio speech and for 10 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday to Congress in mid-January. He expects to return to the White House Wednesday morning.

With the President were Dr. John B. Stetman, an administrative assistant who specializes in labor problems; Secretaries Charles G. Ross and Matthew J. Connelley; Admiral William D. Leahy, personal chief of staff; Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel and speech consultant; George E. Allen, unofficial advisor, and military and naval aides. Reconversion Director John W. Snyder will join them over the week-end.

Increase in Coal Prices January 2

The O.P.A. on Friday announced a price increase of ten cents a ton for the coal industry, to go into effect January 2.

Harry Rigby, solid fuels administrator, said this morning that the increase applies to anthracite and bituminous coal and coke and means that Kingston dealers will increase their prices on these fuels by a ton, effective January 2.

Saugerties Man Dies of Burns

Penwick Schoonmaker, 50 Taken to Hospital After Fire in Home

Penwick Schoonmaker, 50, of Saugerties, died at the Benedictine Hospital at 6:45 o'clock this morning as the result of extensive burns covering the entire upper portion of the body, sustained when the interior of the kitchen at his home on Valley street was swept with fire early this morning.

Schoonmaker, who was a brickyard worker, had not been in good health of late, following an electric shock he received recently while at work. He had been sitting in an arm chair in the kitchen and whether he had had an attack of some kind, or had been smoking and fallen asleep, is not known. His son, awakened by the smoke, came down to the kitchen and found his father lying on the floor, his clothing a mass of flames. He took his father outside and extinguished the flames and after treatment by a physician Schoonmaker was taken to the Benedictine Hospital, where he died at 6:45 o'clock.

Firemen who responded to an alarm at 4:20 were able to confine the fire to the kitchen of the two-story brick house. Schoonmaker, who had a large family, moved to the house on Valley street but a short time ago.

Lt. Gen. Ridgway Will Be Adviser at London

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, American commander in the Mediterranean theatre, will represent the army general staff on the military committee of the United Nations Organization and will be military adviser to the U. S. civil delegation at the London conference.

The War Department announced today his appointment to represent General Dwight Eisenhower, chief of staff. Ridgway is scheduled to leave for England about January 3.

Supervisors Rule Out Care For City Prisoners at Jail

The practice of housing police prisoners over night in the detention cell in the Ulster county jail will be discontinued and the police department will be notified by Sheriff George Smith to that effect. This action has been directed by a resolution of the Board of Supervisors and in the future city prisoners will not be received at the jail until sentenced or held for grand jury action. Facilities are available in the city hall for detention of prisoners.

For years the practice had been criticized by the State Department of Correction but no action has ever been taken to discontinue the practice. Recently city police prisoners have been taken to jail while awaiting arraignment and in a few instances hospitalization has been required. Sheriff Smith has protested responsibility in these cases, claiming that had serious consequences resulted this office would have been severely criticized although such prisoners are city charges and his office was not

Sum of $170,000 Is on Hand to Finance Cost; May Await Unemployment

Facilities planned to accommodate county offices for the next 100 years are being planned for the new "Ulster County Memorial Building" which will be erected on Main street on the site of the former Eagle Hotel, as a part of the Ulster County Postwar Planning Committee program.

The building as now planned will be a four-story structure, facing Main street and to be erected of local brick and stone. When completed the building will house numerous county departments which now are scattered in various buildings. As now planned the only departments which will remain in the present county court house on Wall street will be the sheriff, district attorney and the courts.

Consolidated under one roof in the new county office building will be all other departments, including those now housed in the Van Buren building on John street, in the motor vehicle bureau building on Main street and those housed in the county clerk's building and the Fair street building.

Architect's plans, which may later be altered, provide for space on the first floor of the building for the department's which are most used by the public. This includes the Motor Vehicle Bureau, county clerk's offices and surrogate offices.

On the second floor will be rooms for the Board of Elections, County Treasurer and other departments. The third floor will provide office space for the Farm Bureau, Home Bureau, 4-H Club and Welfare Departments. The supervisors' rooms will be on the fourth floor and provision is also made for numerous other offices throughout the building.

Colonial Design Is Planned
Of colonial design, local materials will be used so far as possible in the construction. The building will be 168 feet long, including the two wings and the two wings which will extend back from either side of the entrance section will be 108 feet deep. The center portion of the building is 108 feet deep. The center portion of the building is 108 feet deep.

8 Men Survive In Burning Mine

Rescue Workers' Hopes of Saving 21 Others Are Bolstered

By KYLE VANCE

Pineville, Ky., Dec. 29 (AP)—Eight miners, rescued from the wreckage of an explosion-shattered coal tunnel near here, were safe in a Pineville hospital today and two others were dead, as rescue workers pressed their search for the remaining 21 men.

All but one of the eight, removed from the tunnel last night, were reported responding satisfactorily to medical treatment. The eighth, identified as Tom McQueen of Pineville, was reported in a serious condition. All were injured in the blast Wednesday.

Rescue crews found the severely burned body of an unidentified miner today near the spot where they expected to locate the remaining miners. The first casualty was identified last night as Albert Bennett, 64, also of Pineville, who was found alive but died before he could be brought out of the two and one-half mile tunnel of the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal Company mine number one.

A crowd of close to 200 men, women and children huddled around the mine entrance anxiously for some word about the fate of the miners still inside the long tunnel. That word was expected momentarily.

Doctors With Men

Full medical supplies and resuscitation equipment were taken into the mine after midnight for quick use when any of the men were found. Doctors remained with rescue workers and an emergency telephone line from the mine entrance was extended 2,000 feet to facilitate communication from any point in the tunnel to the outside.

Rescue crews sent out for 12 pairs of gloves but there was no indication why they were wanted.

Those Rescued

Among those rescued last night was a miner identified as Bud Towns, 52, of Pineville, who survived the Kettle Island explosion in another mine near here in 1929. Sixteen men died in that explosion.

Two others were identified as brothers, Bill Branstetter, 41, and John H. Branstetter, 44, both of Pineville.

The other four were identified as Ivan Whitpat, 51, and Joe Hatfield, 40, of Pineville, and Charles Linar, 30, and Huey Miller, 31, of nearby Four Mile.

The nine men were found in a corridor, just off the main tunnel, and had escaped the heavy concussion of the explosion, rescue workers said.

Crowd Exited

A wave of excitement spread through the crowd outside the mine entrance when first reports were sent from the tunnel that some of the men had been found alive. Emergency calls were sent out for all available doctors and ambulances.

Men, women and children surged closer to the entrance but soon gave way for doctors and other assistants to make their way through the crowd.

Two Pineville physicians, Dr. C. B. Stacy and Dr. Adam Stacy, were among the first arrivals and were admitted into the mine to render aid underground to the men needing attention.

The first ambulance arrived

United Nations Organization Considers Kingston as Possible Permanent Headquarters Site

American Military Charged With Too Much 'Pampering'

Rabbi Bloom Will Leave Kingston After 13 Years

Going From Local Temple to Enter National Field Lecturing for B'nai Brith

RABBI H. I. BLOOM

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, for the past 13 years in charge of Temple Emanuel on Abel street, has filed his resignation to take effect February 4, 1946. He is resigning to accept a call to a larger field in national work, and will be associated with the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai Brith, and will work out of the New York city office of the organization.

His new post will keep him busy speaking and writing in various educational and educator groups in the Jewish field.

Although Rabbi Bloom's resignation is effective next February, he said today that he plans to continue in charge of the Temple Emanuel until his successor is chosen. While he will be with the League in New York city after February 4, he plans to spend the week-ends in Kingston, where his family will remain for the present.

Rabbi Bloom took up his duties at Temple Emanuel on February 1, 1932, and during the past 13 years he has been very active in the civic and religious life of the city.

The rabbi is a member of the Kingston Ministerial Association; president of the Lions Club of this city; a member of the executive committee of the Central Conference of American Rabbis; delegate from this area to the American Jewish Conference, and also a member of various other organizations. He is national president of the Association of Jewish Chaplains of Penal Institutions.

Rabbi Bloom plans to continue his work with the State Department of Correction as chaplain of the state institution at Coxsackie, Napanoch and Wallkill.

German Industrialists Not Being Arrested as They Should, Nixon Charges

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Berlin, Dec. 29 (AP)—Russell A. Nixon, deputy director of the Division of Investigation of Customs and External Assets of the American Military Government, asserted today that military authorities in the American zone were "pampering" German industrialists.

Nixon, former instructor in the economic department at Harvard University and later C.I.O. Washington representative for the United Electrical Workers, declared in an interview that German industrialists were not being destroyed and that industrialists were not being arrested as he believed they should under a directive of the joint chiefs of staff.

Leaders Released

He also declared that "pressure" forced his division to release from jail a number of leaders of the I. G. Farben Industrie, gigantic German chemical trust, after they had been interrogated.

Lt. Gen. Lucien D. Clay, military governor of Germany, said, "I found out about the release of these Farben leaders only the other day. If any pressure was brought for their release, it certainly did not come from this office. We still have ten in custody, however."

Col. E. S. Pillsbury, control officer for the Farben Industrie, informed Nixon that "if and when this office obtains information which provides a basis for substantive charges against these officials or any of them, such charges will be presented promptly to the war crimes authority or to the counter-intelligence Department, according to the nature of the accusation."

Insists on Arrests

Nixon, who is awaiting return home after his division (the I.C.E.A.) was split up between the military and economic divisions of the military government, replied that "there is a duty to place under arrest the key men in industry and finance until such time as a determination of their culpability and punishment is made by the appropriate authority."

He insisted that his department had received "pressure from the beginning in the form of inquiries and expression of views by army officers and military government officials."

"When our questioning was completed," Nixon said, "we were told we no longer had the authority to hold the industrialists."

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher has asked New Year holiday motorists not to combine drinking and driving, in order to reduce the traffic and injury toll.

"After a few drinks," he said yesterday, "I can drive this car" is just another famous last word."

Truman Plans Slow Disclosure Of Atomic Secrets

President Takes View That Step by Step Plan Is Best for the United States

By JACK BELL

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Truman was reported today to be backing an even more cautious, step by step disclosure of atomic energy secrets than first impressions of the Moscow Big Three communique had indicated.

This interpretation of plans to form an international atomic control commission came from persons who talked with Mr. Truman after his return from a Christmas holiday in Missouri.

They declared it is Mr. Truman's view that the United States should always be sure there will be no misuse of a small secret before divulging a more important one.

American Policy

They said conversations both at the White House and the State Department indicated it will be American policy to test out proposed inspection methods before telling any nation except Britain and Canada all of the know-how of the atomic bomb.

Secretary of State Byrnes, due back by plane from Moscow, planned to see Mr. Truman late today on the Presidential yacht Williamsburg.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, chairman of the Republican senatorial conference, gave some indication as to how the wind is blowing after a conference with Mr. Truman at the White House yesterday.

Vandenberg said in a statement he was advised by the State Department that "full security requirements" will be met in the proposed international commission's dealings with atomic energy. The Michigan Senator, a member of the special Senate committee on atomic development, is known to favor a retention of secret until it has been demonstrated that international controls to prevent its future military use are workable.

4-Point Agenda

The Moscow Big Three communique laid down a four-point agenda for the proposed commission, which would be set up by the United Nations Organization and would be accountable to the world security council.

These called for: Exchange of basic scientific information between nations.

Control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes.

Elimination of atomic and other weapons capable of mass destruction.

Erection of "effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and evasions."

Vandenberg said he was advised the communique was not intended to mean "that these objectives should be taken in order indicated," rather, he explained, "it is intended that the four shall be read together and that each should be accompanied by full security requirements—all being finally subject to Congressional approval."

Vandenberg said he heartily endorsed the plan for establishing a commission to explore all phases of atomic energy.

The Michigan Senator's view found general acceptance in Congress.

Action Is Result of Cable Sent by Kingston Metal Trades Council to Commission

Will Visit U.S. Soon

Sub-Committee to Come to United States in January

Today one question is uppermost in the minds of Kingstonians: Will this city become the permanent headquarters of the United Nations Organization?

The city's sudden prominence on the international scene, with a promise of immortality in this atomic age, came last night when Lowell Thomas, Sun Oil news commentator, mentioned Kingston last night in his national broadcast over WEAJ as a site being considered by the Interim Committee of the U. N. O.

Kingston as a permanent headquarters was first suggested by the Kingston Metal Trades Council through Business Agent George Yerry when a cable was dispatched December 20, to the U. N. O. Preparatory Commission in London.

"We were the first labor group to suggest any city in this country as a headquarters," Mr. Yerry said today. "Also, we were the first to recommend Kingston and we are highly gratified that our efforts have put Kingston in such a favorable spot."

Mr. Yerry said he had received today numerous calls from influential county persons, in close proximity to Kingston offering sites for the U. N. O. headquarters.

Potential Sites

According to a United Press dispatch from London, authoritative sources said the list of potential sites included places in the Boston-New York areas. They are Plymouth, Worcester, Auburn, Cape Cod, Orange and Middlesex Falls, all in Massachusetts; the Providence area in Rhode Island, and Westchester county, Westhampton Beach, L. I.; Hyde Park and Kingston in New York.

The site committee announced its selection of the New York and Boston areas after five hours of secret deliberation during which such other potential homes as Philadelphia and Atlantic City, N. J. were eliminated. It also eliminated all sites within 10 miles of New York city, such as Flushing Meadows, scene of the 1939-40 World's Fair.

To Visit U. S. Soon

According to The Associated Press today in a London dispatch, selection of a site for permanent headquarters of the United Nations Organization was narrowed still further today by spokesman for the Interim Committee who said that it "probably" would be in the "general areas" of either Boston or New York city.

The spokesman, who asked that his name be withheld, said last night that the sub-committee to visit proposed sites would leave for the United States January 3 or 4 to visit "at least 15 places and probably more."

Building Trades Will Take Strike Vote in N. Y.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—The A.F.L. Building and Construction Trades Council says it will seek a strike vote among 200,000 building trades workers here in protest against failure of a federal wage adjustment board to allow the men a straight 15 per cent wage boost.

Council President Howard McSpedon said the union and the employers had agreed a 15 per cent raise was warranted and had made a joint request to the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage Adjustment Board for approval.

McSpedon said the council's executive board voted unanimously yesterday to apply immediately to the National Labor Relations Board for a strike ballot, and that the board took that action while meeting with the Board of Governors of the Building Trades Association; the employer group.

He said a strike probably would be called near the end of January.

An Agreement Reached

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—The United States and France have agreed to operation of airlines of each country through the other on four routes. Under the temporary plan announced yesterday by the State Department U. S. airlines may fly the North Atlantic through France by way of Paris and beyond to the Middle East, and to Marseille via Lisbon and Barcelona. The two French routes are to Washington via New York and to Chicago via Montreal.

Auto Workers Are Gathering Data About Pay Boost

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Representatives of the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers gathered data from government agencies today in an attempt to persuade a presidential fact-finding panel that General Motors can pay 30 per cent higher wages.

The panel pressed on with its proceedings despite the corporation's walkout over the issue of whether its ability to pay should be considered. Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison said members would meet tomorrow if necessary to complete hearings.

When President Truman set up the panel he gave it 20 days—until next Thursday—to finish its work.

Water Main Break Delays Subway Trains

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Thousands of New Yorkers were delayed in getting to work today after a huge water main broke under Broadway, hampering transportation and communications.

Water in the B.M.T. subway's Canal street station was five feet deep. It submerged four rail tracks and rose almost to the level of the passenger platforms. All traffic on the Sea Beach, West End, Brighton and Fourth avenue lines was halted on the 2½-mile stretch between Times Square and Chambers street.

The Western Union Telegraph Company reported the water had flooded manholes and shorted cables.

The main, which police said was at least 30 inches in diameter, broke at 4:20 a. m., and not until 7 a. m. did the hundreds of workmen rushed to the scene manage to shut off the torrent of water.

BLINDED ITALIAN BOY VISITS LA GUARDIA

Clad in a G.I. uniform, eight-year-old Gianfranco Cabbia, almost totally blind Italian boy who was brought to New York Christmas Day by the 88th "Blue Devil" Division, visits New York's Mayor LaGuardia at City Hall. The boy is enroute to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., for an operation to restore his sight. Members of the 8th Division contributed $3,400 to finance the operation.

The flood conditions continued long afterwards. Broadway's pavement in the two blocks between Grand and Canal streets was raised up in blisters by the water pressure.

Returns to Ellenville

It is announced that Frank Miller, who was editor of the Ellenville Journal for three and a half years, before entering the Navy in July, 1943, will resume that position on January 14. He succeeds Miss Dorothy Spears, who has been editor for the past ten months. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and two children will make their home in Ellenville.

Five Children Die Of Suffocation in Bridgeport Blaze

Christmas Tree Lights Are Blamed; All Were Alone in House

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 29 (AP)—Five children, ranging in age from one to nine years, died of suffocation today in a fire which swept the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carcare. Fire officials expressed the belief that the blaze was caused by Christmas tree lights.

The children were alone in the house, officials said, their parents having gone to open a gasoline station operated by their father. The victims were Samuel, one; Salvatore, three; Ralph, four; Matthew, eight; and Rose Marie, nine.

The fire was the third in Connecticut within a week to take a heavy loss of life.

Franco's Government Says Spain Won't Yield

Madrid, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Spanish government asserted today that Spain would not tolerate "interference of the foreigner in its internal affairs."

The statement, issued by Francisco Franco's Council of Ministers, apparently was in answer to a projected meeting of the United States, France and Britain to review their relations with Spain. The communique said that Spain stood "ready to isolate itself" from countries which have used her as a "lightning rod to draw off internal storms," and accused communists of waging a "campaign of defamation" to smear the Franco government.

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee has been appointed to succeed Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as deputy supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean Theatre, it was announced today.

SOLDIERS SAVE SHOE

Two Polish soldiers in England, hearing cries of distress from a millpond at Fairford, saw two small boys tearfully pointing to a shoe on the surface and promptly dived in. Mystified at finding no body, the Poles finally were made to understand that while playing conkers, one of the boys had taken a flying kick at his companion's chestnut, and his shoe had flown off. And conkers, if you haven't played them or it, is a game in which each player has a horse chestnut on a string.

Progress Stymied Until Disputes Are Ironed Out

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—John D. Small, while reporting significant reconstruction progress, says there can't be "full speed ahead" until current industrial disputes are ironed out.

The chief of the Civilian Production Administration asserts that when these "widespread" labor-management differences have been settled "full-out production can be expected rapidly."

Small made these statements in reporting that even though industrial output has turned upward for the first time since victory in Europe, the heavy demands of both consumers and producers are not being met in all cases.

In addition to work stoppages, continuing scarcity of some materials is holding up the full flow of many consumer products to review of production last night. Questioned at a news conference about the impact of a steel strike scheduled for next month on reconversion, Small said "we would be in a mess all over the country."

LAWYERS PLEASE NOTE!

It is not hard to guess that this letter comes from a lawyer's secretary. It says: At long last, you have written a piece that's directed to the employer about his duties toward employees! The post-war world may be better after all.

Do you know anything about the law field where crippling night work for stenographers has been the rule these many years? Lawyers think that several dollars an hour sustain a girl on a second shift, many times until as late as 2 a. m. They seem unable to realize that money does not compensate for fatigue and canceling of evening recreation plans. Please make a note to whisper a word to lawyers whose work seems to dehumanize them.

It seems to me that it will take more than a whisper to attract their attention. But if this letter itself does not dehumanize them, I am sure nothing else will.

What Does She Call Him?

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a dentist and think my wife should refer to me as Dr. Smith. She doesn't. Answer: Very certainly, you are Dr. Smith, except to your personal friends who call you, "John."

In-Laws Can Give Reception Later

Dear Mrs. Post: What would you say we could do with the mixed up ideas about my wedding reception? My family is not very well off and I want to limit the breakfast to immediate members. Even so, that number will total thirty-five. My fiancée's family think we should have a larger reception, including many of their business friends, etc. Also, my family does not approve of anything strong to drink and the other family does.

Answer: I would suggest that your family give you the small breakfast immediately following the ceremony. Later, when you return from your honeymoon, your husband's family may give as big an evening reception for you as they care to. Then they can ask whom they please and serve what they please.

Son and Daughter Attendants for Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a bride and groom, both in the early forties and both married before, to have the groom's son and daughter of the bride as their only attendants?

Answer: Yes, it couldn't be more proper.

For Mrs. Post's booklet, 501, "The Etiquette of Weddings," send 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent, self-addressed envelope to her in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, New York. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Sewing Club Party

The Tuesday Night Sewing Club held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Beverly Lowe, 76 Elrath avenue. Games were played and gifts exchanged, after which a dinner was served by candle light. The dining room was attractively decorated with the usual Christmas colors and a beautiful Christmas tree.

Those attending were the Misses Alice Williams and Dorothy Demskie, Mrs. Helen Williams, Mrs. Mary Schloff, Mrs. Mildred Demskie, Mrs. Betty Gardner, Mrs. D. Chambers and Mrs. Beverly Lowe.

PIANOS PROVE PUZZLE

David Munro, rubber estate manager in Sumatra, is puzzled since he returned from a Jap prison camp, says a report from Pandang. He found his home undamaged and it contained four pianos and two easy chairs that were not there when he left. He knows that one chair and one piano belong to his brother, manager of a plantation 20 miles away, but wonders if the others are presents from the Japs.

Employee Retires After 23 Years of Service

William Waldele Is Honored at Banquet

William Waldele of Saugerties, who is retiring from the employ of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., was honored at a banquet Thursday night at the Kirkland Hotel. Mr. Waldele has been employed as station operator at the power plant on Jansen avenue and has been with the company since 1922.

Four others who have retired from the company: Asa Buddington, Frank Storms, John Zimmerman, and Joseph Smith were also honored guests at the banquet as was John O. Puchs of Poughkeepsie, department head. Thirty-seven employees representing different branches of the company attended.

Robert H. Pixley, supervisor of the electric stations in the Kingston district, acted as toastmaster. Mr. Waldele was presented with a sum of money and a gold wrist watch and chain inscribed with his name and the length of service to the company.

Hal-Mar Employees Are Entertained

Enjoy Turkey Dinner and Party at the Factory

Thirty-one of the employees of Hal-Mar Manufacturing Co., Inc., were entertained at a turkey dinner party Saturday evening at Adele's Restaurant on Crown street. Tables were decorated with Christmas yule logs, candles, fruits and nuts.

At 9:30 the employees joined their friends for a party at the factory which had been decorated for the occasion with streamers and a Christmas tree surrounded with gifts. Mayor William F. Edelmuth was a guest for the evening and acted as Santa Claus. During the evening the group sang Christmas carols and there were solos by Martha Costello, floor lady; Shirley Fitzsimmons and also a duet by Mrs. Fitzsimmons and her brother, Sonny DeGraff. The party closed with dancing and refreshments.

Message for New Year Can Carry Christmas Seals

New Year's messages, as well as Yuletide cards, can carry the Christmas Seal this year since the single word "greetings" is prominently featured in the design of the little health booster. The only other word on the 1945 Seal is the artist's name "Phipps" but it is in type so small that a reading-glass may be needed to find it.

Certain other symbols are more readily discernible. The letters U.S.A. are imprinted on each seal to identify its origin since a number of other countries have a similar device for raising funds, and informing the public about tuberculosis. The 56th Seal on every sheet bears the "secret" printer's mark which in this area is the letter "U" or "E."

The red double-barred cross on every seal is the symbol of the worldwide fight against tuberculosis and is the trademark of the Christmas Seal.

Many collectors have the whole series of 35 Christmas Seals. Most of the back issues can be secured through the Christmas Seal headquarters at 74 John street in Kingston where a complete collection is on display.

The 1945 Seals will be withdrawn from sale February 1st, but it is not yet too late to send contributions for seals and for the year round work of the association.

Russians Favor Procedure and Form in Conferences; Participants Must Retain Right to Disagree Always

One of the candidates for United States Senator from California has a qualification highly unusual among politicians; he can speak Chinese. With the Far East practically dead among postwar international problems, it seems like an excellent idea to get a senator who has some first-hand acquaintance with the Orient. Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah knows Japanese, and Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota, a former medical missionary, presumably knows Chinese. They must be, however, pretty lonely on Capitol Hill. It might be a good idea to give them some company.

N.L.R.B. Lacks Funds
To Conduct Balloting

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Some 600 union petitions for strike votes were left stranded today by lack of funds for the National Labor Relations Board to conduct the balloting.

A decision to discontinue this function immediately was made known by the board last night soon after President Truman signed a deficiency appropriation bill which provided no funds for the purpose.

An N.L.R.B. official said the board was the only agency un-powered to supervise strike votes.
It spent about $1,000,000 doing so since July, 1943.

chiefs of staff to the theatre commanders, Nixon said, "no one has been assigned the responsibility of carrying out the provision for arrest for all Nazis and Nazi sympathizers holding important and key positions in industry, commerce, agriculture and finance."

"The directive clearly emphasizes that it may be generally assumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that any person holding such positions are Nazis or Nazi sympathizers," he asserted. "These leaders may not be in the mandatory removal category, but they certainly are segments of the society which collaborated with the Nazi party. We haven't done anything with most of them. They have their freedom."

Backing Senator Harley M. Kilgore's recent allegations that German industries were not being destroyed, Nixon said, "eighty-three per cent of the Farben Industries in the American zone existed at the end of the war, and all that they need now are raw materials and fuel to start production at an 80 per cent capacity."

Theodore Dreiser Dies; Novelist, 74, Had Heart Attack

Author, Known for His Realism, Has Two Novels Yet to Be Published

Hollywood, Dec. 29 (AP)—Theodore Dreiser, one of America's leading modern novelists, is dead. A heart attack last night claimed the 74-year-old writer, an outstanding realist who came in with the present century and rose to literary eminence through critical derision after abandoning a newspaper career, which he claimed was "too brutal."

Physicians said the writer, whose novel, "An American Tragedy," published 20 years ago, was one of his greatest literary works, appeared in rally after an attack early yesterday, but succumbed to a second, 15 hours later.

At his bedside was his second wife, Helen. His first wife, the former Sarah Osborne White of St. Louis, died in 1942 at the age of 63. There were no children.

Born at Terre Haute, Ind., in 1871, the son of a German couple, John and Sarah Dreiser, Theodore here early to brood over the "inequalities" of everyday life—a despair that soon etched itself firmly in his writings, which consistently ran to tragedies.

Beginning in Chicago about 1890 a journalistic career he once said he hoped would "crystallize my vague dreamings and imaginings," he worked on newspapers and magazines in St. Louis and New York before he wrote "Sister Carrie," a tragedy of a village maiden. Suppressed by publishers at first, it later became one of his greatest works.

Later he turned out dozens of volumes of stories, long and short; plays and essays.

Since he established his home here 10 years ago, Dreiser remained in semi-seclusion, but recently completed two more novels, "The Bulwark" and "The Stoic," which are not yet off the press.

Kingston Gets Two Inches of Snow Today

Another snowstorm broke over Kingston during the night and at 8 o'clock this morning fully two inches had fallen and the storm was still in progress. According to the weather bureau it was expected that later in the day the snow would turn to rain.

Superintendent Ernest Steuding of the Board of Public Works ordered out the sanding crews at 1:30 o'clock this morning and the work of sanding the sidewalks and intersections was continued throughout the night and this morning. He said that sanding would continue as long as necessary.

The work of plowing the streets would not be started, said the superintendent until the snow reached a depth of four inches.

While the storm was in progress this morning thermometers along Broadway were registering 28 degrees. The snow that fell was wet and heavy, and packed readily under the wheels of traffic.

Baksi Explodes Freddie Schott Heavyweight Boom Title at Brookline

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Freddie Schott heavyweight boom has been exploded by Joe Baksi, the Kulpmont, Pa. battler.

Although Schott, a youngster from Paterson, N. J., via Akron, Ohio, had run up a string of 43 straight victories, he never met as experienced a hand as the ex-coal miner who galloped to a unanimous 10-round decision last night at Madison Square Garden.

Promoter Mike Jacobs' final show of 1945 drew 12,400 fans who paid $48,291, boosting the year's ring gross for the big Eighth Avenue arena to $2,225,000.

Although he won easily, Baksi, who weighed 214½, suffered a badly bruised knuckle on the first finger of his right hand in the fourth round and may be out of action for a time. Schott, weighed 211½.

Baksi, a 5 to 8 betting favorite, staggered Schott in the fifth but was unable to score a knockdown.

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

By BILLY SIXTY

Applying Turn: The business of putting stuff on the ball in bowling—to give it hook spin—is accomplished either with the fingers alone, or with a turn of the wrist. One method is as effective as the other.

Almost without exception, the hook delivery, causing the ball to roll inward toward the strike pocket (between the 1-3 pins) is employed by the stars because of its spinning, mixing power. A hook "opens up the pocket," widens it. The hit doesn't have to be fitted nearly as perfectly as with a straight or backup ball. The hook, spilling the pins around in spinning action, pays off on either thin or full hits.

In applying hook-spin with the finger (two hole ball) the hand is kept well behind and slightly to the right of the ball through the swing up to the moment of release. At that point the ball is pulled upward with the finger—it is "lifted" a little, and in so doing the rotary hook-spin is applied.

When the wrist alone is used to effect the hook, care must be taken not to turn the wrist too early or too fast. A premature turn will throw the ball off its course, to the left of the desired 1-3 pocket, and too quick a turn kills control.

Mayer's Horses May Capture Opening Card

Armadia, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—The richest racing meeting ever scheduled, Santa Anita's ninth, attracts 40,000 persons today.

The opening card is highlighted by the $25,000 California Breeders' Champion Stakes at one mile for two-year-olds.

Movieman Louis B. Mayer has what the handicappers call a "mortal lock" although there's no such thing in racing, for the Brexiers' Championship. He has three youngsters entered—Honeycomb, Moneybags and Charivari. One of 'em, almost everybody agrees, ought to win; some of the handicappers pick the Mayer trio to finish one-two-three.

This is the first of 55 days of racing on the Armadia oval. The cheapest of the 440 races scheduled will pay $3,000; the richest, the Santa Anita Handicap, and the Santa Anita Derby, will be worth $100,000 added each. There will be five other stakes for $50,000 each.

Bisons Would Give Bonus to Polio Fund

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Buffalo hockey Bisons were credited today with having hit upon a happy solution to their problem of what to do about a $1,500 bonus promised them which if paid, would result in a $10,000 fine for their owners.

The players voted yesterday in Cleveland to contribute the disputed $1,500 to the March of Dimes campaign, conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The bonus had been promised them for reaching first place in the American League's eastern division by Christmas.

Madison Square Garden Is Reported Sold Out

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—All eight of Madison Square Garden's basketball doubleheaders have been sellouts so far and another 18,000 plus capacity crowd is assured for tonight when unbeaten Kentucky clashes with St. John's surprise conquest of Tennessee.

Singles Vacancies Will Be Filled In Junior Tennis

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Singles vacancies in the semi-final brackets of the National Junior and Boys Indoor Tennis Championships are due to be filled today with Stuart Robinson of New and Richard Mouldous of New Orleans favored to gain the penultimate rounds in their respective divisions.

Robinson conquered Ken Shimizu of New York in a second round match yesterday, 6-2, 6-1, and today will meet Stewart Bicknell of Garden City, N. Y., for the right to enter the semi-finals of the junior play. First-seeded Richard Savitt of Bayonne, N. J., second-ranked Sidney Schwartz of Brooklyn and unseeded Marvin Manlin of New York, all advanced to the round of four yesterday without the loss of a set.

In the boys division, Mouldous, national outdoor champion, trounced Thomas L. Boys, of Garden City, 6-1, 6-1, and will encounter Harold Lipson of New York in a quarter-finals match. Already in the semi-final round were Gilbert A. Bouley of Chevy Chase, Md., Joseph Friedman, Woodmere, N. Y., and Bill Lone of Lynbrook, N. Y. The three moved up yesterday with only Friedman running into any difficulty. He had to go three sets to eliminate Abraham Fabian, New York, 6-8, 7-5, 6-1.

Captain Dale Dies In Hospital as Result of Wounds

Husband of Powers Model Is Held Without
Bail on Felonious Charge

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Capt. Eugene Dale, 27-year-old survivor of the Bataan Death March, died at 8:37 a. m. today at Roosevelt Hospital as a result of bullet wounds in the head, chest and abdomen received in a melee over the love of an attractive model.

Another war veteran, Capt. Archie B. Miller, 25, who served in the European theatre and who is the estranged husband of the model, had been held without bail on a charge of felonious assault as a result of the shooting early yesterday.

Assistant District Attorney Edward Murphy termed the shooting "one of the usual triangle affairs." The model, Mrs. Fay Hancock Miller, told police she fell in love with Dale and planned a divorce while her husband was overseas.

Police gave the following account of the shooting:
Because of the housing shortage, Miller had been sharing his estranged wife's West 58th street apartment. Early yesterday morning Miller entered the apartment and found his wife, Dale, Mrs. Miller's sister Frances Hancock and her fiancé sitting in the living room talking.

Miller stalked into the bedroom, obtained a German luger pistol—which he had brought home as a war souvenir—and then returned to the living room.

He fired six shots at Dale, inflicting three wounds.

Mrs. Miller struggled with her husband and he struck her with the butt of the gun.

Then Arthur Gormley, the Merchant Seaman fiancé of Mrs. Miller's sister, grappled with Miller and subdued him, gaining possession of the gun and striking the captain in the head with it.

Police said that before Dale died he identified Miller as his assailant. Miller admitted the shooting, they added.

The Millers were married 25 months ago in Florida. They lived together seven months before Miller went overseas.

The attractive blonde, 24 and a former Powers model, told police she felt shortly after her marriage that it was a mistake. She consulted a lawyer about divorce proceedings, and told Miller of her action in letters written while he was overseas.

She said he didn't seem particularly disturbed but asked for a reconciliation.

Dale, of Enid, Okla., was stationed at Mitchell Field, N. Y., after an adventurous war career. After the Death March, he escaped from a prison ship and for six months fought with a Filipino guerrilla unit. Later he was recaptured and spent three years in a Japanese prison camp before his liberation.

Miller is from Bellevue, Texas. His wife is from Jonesboro, N. C.

U. S. Soldiers Are To Join Chinese

Will Accompany Troops to Manchuria if
Plans Work Out

By RICHARD CUSHING

Shanghai, Dec. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of U. S. forces in China, said today that "plans are under consideration to move additional (Chinese) armies to Manchuria," and more American army troops would be needed to accompany them; supervise debarkation, handle supply problems and give other aid.

He told a news conference, in line with America's newly broadened policy of aid to the National government of Generalissimo Chiang-Kai-Shek. And, he added, it is one reason why U. S. army personnel in China should be built up to 12,000 or 15,000 men, even though it would mean bringing an additional 3,000 to 4,000 from America or from other military theatres.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

London, Dec. 29.—Preservation of world peace is a burning issue in this England which so recently was at bloody grips with the Nazi monster, and the debate has been given fresh impetus by the auspicious Big Three parley in Moscow and the impending meeting of the United Nations Organization assembly here.

One of the most unusual approaches to this subject I've encountered comes from Sir Richard Padgett, distinguished British scientist, with whom I discussed the matter. He holds that peace depends primarily on the solution of two problems, one economic and the other judicial, and on the economic side his ideas are a sizzling challenge to "economists."

"The economic problem," he told me, "is that of discovering the machinery for enabling every nation to use and distribute their wealth producing powers—that is, their power to produce goods and render services—to the utmost and to exchange their surplus wealth with other communities which need them, without artificial restriction of any kind."

System Needs Changes
"This will need many changes in the present economic system and can, I believe, only be arrived at by an intensive scientific research to be carried on by teams of the most intelligent economists, statisticians, psychologists, historians, legal experts, etc., working with the same freedom, team spirit and intensity as that which produced the atomic bomb."

"At present it is not an exaggeration to say that nobody in the world knows how the problem of the production and distribution of real wealth could be handled. Man's powers of production have completely outstripped his 'orthodox' methods of handling the problems of exchange and distribution of real wealth by means of monetary tokens, etc. A better and more scientific method is urgently required."

'Burying' Gold
"Thus it is obviously crazy that the world's best metal for fine craftsmanship—Gold—should be laboriously extracted from the earth at great expense of manpower and then be reburied in the vaults of the national banks. Gold should of course be used for the development of a real 'golden age' by the world's finest craftsmen."

"It is equally crazy that the great manufacturing nations should be constantly striving to export more goods and services than they import, and that any sudden accretion of real wealth should be looked upon as a national danger, to be guarded against by tariffs."

"In this particular case the reason is clear. The increase of real wealth is not automatically accompanied by a corresponding increase in the tokens of real wealth, that is, money or credits, so as to enable the new wealth to be consumed by the community which has received it. Hence such traffic anomalies as the burning of 'surplus' wheat, the ploughing of cotton, the throwing of 'miraculous draughts' of 'fishes' back into the sea."

Politics Interfere
"So long as tariffs, currencies and monetary questions are dealt with as matters of international politics and rivalries there is little hope that a rational and scientific solution will be found, and the risk of future wars will continue to increase."

"Intensive scientific research might find the proper solution in two or three years—instead of twenty or thirty, if ever."

Sir Richard believes that the judicial problem is of discovering a method "of selecting from among all the nations a panel of men and or women of the greatest wisdom, courage, clarity and impartiality, to form a world supreme court to which all nations would be willing to submit their gravest differences and accept without question the decision of the court."

5 Die Friday In Trolley Fire After Collision

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—At least five persons were killed and seven injured last night in a fire that swept a Philadelphia Transportation Company trolley car after it was in a collision with an oil-truck in nearby Esington, Pa.

Elmer McCausland, deputy county coroner of Delaware county, said none of the dead had been identified. He said police had removed four charred bodies from the wreckage of the trolley and a body they believed to be the truck driver's had been removed from the cab of the truck.

A spokesman for the P.T.C. who declined use of his name, said the accident was one of the worst the line had ever had. He said the tank truck, with a 4,200-gallon fuel oil capacity, struck the trolley near the front, then burst into flames which enveloped the entire car.

Ship Reports Its Peril Is Lessened

Thoreau Cancels Distress
Message; Bombs
Under Control

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Liberty ship Henry D. Thoreau reports that the danger of 5,000 tons of bombs breaking loose in her hold has been averted, and "unless we hit unusually bad weather we will be all right."

"Please cancel our distress message," the Thoreau radioed the eastern sea frontier last night, many hours after the original message which said the bomb cargo was breaking loose and "if they give way entirely nothing can save us."

The 7,176-ton Thoreau, operated by the Luckenbach Steamship Company, is on its way from Naples, Italy, bound for Cape May, N. J. It was about 420 miles southwest of the Azores when the distress message came.

A navy spokesman said the bombs possibly were some of those unused by American Air Forces in Italy and being returned to an ammunition depot in the United States. He said fuses, probably were removed from the bombs and they were "very unlikely" to explode unless subjected to a great shock.

There were no troops aboard the Thoreau.

Terrorists Are Sought

Jerusalem, Dec. 29 (AP)—Terrorists responsible for explosions and shootings which resulted in 10 deaths in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv Thursday night were sought by police today among nearly 2,000 persons arrested in the biggest roundup in Palestine's history. The suspects, lodged in detention barracks, were picked up throughout the day yesterday. Every male under 60 years of age including the entire guest list of the Eden Hotel, was arrested in the Bezalel section of Jerusalem.

New Ulster County Building Would Provide Space for Next 100 Years

tion of the building will not extend back as far as the wings, thus giving light to the rear offices in the wings and also providing a parking space at the rear of the building for official cars. There will be a plaza in front of the main entrance which will be landscaped and parking space will also be provided between the new building and the present Buick Garage building to the east.

The building will be located on the present parking space and the lot now occupied by the Motor Vehicle Bureau building. The present county clerk's building will not be torn down until the new building is open for use, providing space for the conduct of county clerk's business during the construction period. On completion of the new office structure the present county clerk's building will be torn down and that lot landscaped. The new building will not extend flush with Fair street.

Fireproof Construction
Plans call for a building of concrete and steel and the entire construction will be fireproof. Elevators will serve the four floors. There will be ample storage space in the basement for use of the different departments.

The cost of construction of the building can not be definitely determined at this time since materials and labor costs are liable to vary considerably. The original estimate was $250,000 for a three-story building, but this plan was later changed to a four-story building. The state is paying one-half of the cost of preparing plans and specifications for the work which will be a part of the county's Postwar Planning program. The cost of construction of the building itself will be borne by the county unless at some future time public funds are made available. At present provisions have been made for the financing of the project to the extent of $170,000. Each year the Board of Supervisors during the war period has appropriated a sum of money for the fund and thus far a total of $170,000 is available.

May Not Begin in 1946

It is not expected the construction will begin in 1946 because of the inability to secure building materials. The Postwar Planning Committee also feels that construction of the building should be commenced at such time as the unemployment situation becomes acute, thus giving work to many local unemployed men.

The committee is also working on plans for renovation of the County Home building at New Paltz and $46,000 has been made available for that work.

Alterations at the county court house on Wall street are also under advisement and plans are now in the process of preparation. However, that work cannot be undertaken until the new county building is completed and various departments now housed in the court house have been moved to their new locations.

In presenting its report to the board the Postwar Planning Committee Thursday night stated in that report, "your committee feels that Ulster county with its many natural, economic, locational and social advantages, will grow very rapidly in the next five, 10 or 15 years; and it would not be wise if we did not plan for this growth." For that reason the plans were altered.
